

Miss de Acosta, Writer, To Be Artist's Bride

Wedding of Young Woman, Who Wrote the Lyrics in "What Next," and Abram Poole Is Set for May

Miss Edna Hoyt Engaged

Her Marriage to William John Warburton Probably Will Be Summer Event

One of the most interesting engagements of the season was made known yesterday when Mrs. Ricardo de Acosta, of 830 Park Avenue, announced that of her daughter, Miss Mercedes de Acosta, to Abram Poole, artist, of this city and Chicago. Miss de Acosta, who is one of the most attractive young women in society, of the Spanish type, is a talented writer, and published a book of poems "Moods" last fall. She also has been laureate as a playwright, and such of the success of "What Next?" which was given for two weeks on Broadway by members of society for the benefit of charity, was due to her charming lyrics. Mrs. de Acosta, who made her debut several years ago, is a sister of Mrs. Oren Root, Mrs. Rita Lytle, Mrs. Andrew Robeson Sargent and Mrs. William Gilman Sewall, whose home is at 1100 East 71st St., N.Y.C.

Mr. Poole, who is a painter, was graduated from Princeton in 1904 and studied art in Paris, and also in Munich and Italy. He won the Grand Prix in Rome in 1911, and two years ago a similar honor at the Royal Academy in Munich. In Paris he studied under Lucien Simon. He is a trustee of the Chicago Art Institute and a director of the Chicago Art Club and the Museum of Modern Art, of 125 East Twenty-sixth St. Miss Hoyt was one of the winter's debutantes and was presented at a dance given by her father at the Plaza December 23. She is a niece of Mrs. George Quinton, Mr. Warburton was graduated in 1918 from Princeton and is connected with some of the prominent families of this city and Philadelphia. He served abroad with the United States Naval Aviation forces. Although no date has been set for the wedding this may be one of the fashionable events of the summer season.

Miss Hoyt lives with her mother at 130 East Sixty-seventh St.

Miss Audrey Neilson Osborn has chosen May 8 for her marriage to John Edmond Richards, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Lamb Richards. She will be married May 1 to Eugene Willett Van Court Lucas Jr., of Staten Island.

One of the first weddings of the season on Long Island will be Miss Madeleine Cochrane's to Philip S. P. Randolph Jr., of Philadelphia. It will take place April 28 at Heliport. Miss Cochrane is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cochrane. Mr. Randolph is the brother of Mrs. Philip Stevenson, Mrs. John R. Feil and Mrs. Robert S. Hudson. The wedding will be held at the British Embassy in Washington. He is a son of Philip S. P. Randolph, of Philadelphia.

Miss Marjorie Ewing La Vie, daughter of George A. La Vie, of 24 West Eighty-eighth St., will be married to Warren Truett Stewart, son of Dr. and Mrs. William E. Stewart, of South Orange, N. J., April 17 in all Angels' Church. The ceremony will be followed by a reception at the Hotel St. Regis. Miss Edith La Vie will be the sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Hilda Baird, Miss Dorothy White and Florianne Traub. Edwin Stewart 3d will serve as his brother's best man, and the ushers will be Richard La Vie, Bleecker St.

Miss Marjorie Ewing La Vie, daughter of George A. La Vie, of 24 West Eighty-eighth St., will be married to Warren Truett Stewart, son of Dr. and Mrs. William E. Stewart, of South Orange, N. J., April 17 in all Angels' Church. The ceremony will be followed by a reception at the Hotel St. Regis. Miss Edith La Vie will be the sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Hilda Baird, Miss Dorothy White and Florianne Traub. Edwin Stewart 3d will serve as his brother's best man, and the ushers will be Richard La Vie, Bleecker St.

Miss Marjorie Ewing La Vie, daughter of George A. La Vie, of 24 West Eighty-eighth St., will be married to Warren Truett Stewart, son of Dr. and Mrs. William E. Stewart, of South Orange, N. J., April 17 in all Angels' Church. The ceremony will be followed by a reception at the Hotel St. Regis. Miss Edith La Vie will be the sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Hilda Baird, Miss Dorothy White and Florianne Traub. Edwin Stewart 3d will serve as his brother's best man, and the ushers will be Richard La Vie, Bleecker St.

Pride of Linen

The capable housewife's just indulgence—finds full expression in the character of work turned out by

The WALLACH LAUNDRY

Here is a spotless newness, an unruffled gloss, a smooth efficiency beaming right methods. The Wallach special system of SEMI READY DRY STARCH WORK at 13 cents a pound has made a tremendous hit.

Telephone Plaza 185 for further particulars

Wallach Laundry

330-332 East 59th Street

A Branch Store at Route Man Always Near Your Home.

330-332 East 59th Street

A Branch Store at Route Man Always Near Your Home.

330-332 East 59th Street

A Branch Store at Route Man Always Near Your Home.

330-332 East 59th Street

A Branch Store at Route Man Always Near Your Home.

330-332 East 59th Street

A Branch Store at Route Man Always Near Your Home.

Gellatly, Malcolm Piersen, Charles Jewett and Donald Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Ewell Stodd, of Short Hills, N. J., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marjorie Stodd, to Lieutenant Charles L. Austin, U. S. N. Lieutenant Austin is stationed at the submarine base at Norfolk, Va.

Dr. and Mrs. Burton J. Lee are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son a few days ago. Mrs. Lee was Miss Louise Freeman, daughter of the late General Frank Morgan Freeman.

Mrs. James S. Cushman, Mrs. Henry P. Davidson and Mrs. Lewis H. Lapham have issued invitations for an overseas reunion tea to be given by the Young Women's Christian Association to-morrow, from 4 to 7 o'clock, at 600 Lexington Avenue. The guests of honor will be Rear Admiral James H. Glennon, Major General David C. Shanks and Major General John F. Ryan.

Members of the overseas units of the American Red Cross, Young Men's Christian Association, National Catholic War Council, Jewish Welfare Board, American Library Association, Salvation Army American Women's Hospitals, Knights of Columbus, Smith College organization, Wellesley College organization, Vassar College organization, American Friends Service Committee, American Fund for French Wounded and the Comité American pour les Régions Dévastées are among the guests.

The second of the Colony dances will be given this evening in the ballroom of the Ritz-Carlton. It will be under the patronage of Mrs. Walter B. James, Mrs. John Mearns Ellsworth, Mrs. H. Casimir de Rham, Mrs. Robert L. Steven, Mrs. Oliver Gould Jennings and Mrs. Winthrop Burr. These dances are for the junior set—girls not yet out and some of their young preparatory school and college friends.

The second of the Senior Dances, formerly known as the "Thursday Seniors," will be given at the Plaza to-night. Mrs. J. J. James, Mrs. Bradish Johnson Carroll Jr., Mrs. Richard S. Emmet, Mrs. Gerardus Herrick, Mrs. Henry Morgan Post, Mrs. Leonard J. Wyeth, Mrs. Irving H. Pardee and Mrs. Cooper Lord belong to the committee in charge of the affair.

Mrs. George W. Vanderbilt will give a dance, April 6, at her home, East 88th St., for her daughter, Miss Cornelia Vanderbilt.

Mrs. Samuel Riker Jr. will give a dance to-morrow evening at her home, 206 Madison Avenue, for her daughter, Miss Audrey Townsend, and her son, Sloan Walker, who will be married April 6.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Horace Harding, who have been passing the winter at Jekyll Island Club, Georgia, with their daughters, Miss Catharine and Miss Laura Harding, will return to their New York residence, 955 Fifth Avenue, to-day.

Rufus L. Patterson, of 15 East Sixty-fifth St., has sailed for Europe to pass several weeks abroad.

Another series of supper dances for the benefit of home charities will be given after Easter, beginning April 9, at the Plaza. The other dates are April 16, 23 and 30.

Washington Society Folk Visit Amaryllis Show

Wife of Agriculture Secretary, Cabinet Members and Diplomats Present on Opening Day

From The Tribune's Washington Bureau WASHINGTON, March 25.—Mrs. Edwin T. Meredith, wife of the Secretary of Agriculture, who held her last "at home" of the season yesterday afternoon, passed some time earlier in the day in the propagating houses on the Mall, where the beautiful display of amaryllis was opened to the public to-day. Mrs. Meredith had a party of friends with her, and Cabinet members, diplomats and society folk will be in evidence there all during the show, which will be open until Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Noyes have returned to Washington after a stay of two months in Jamaica.

The commandant of the navy yard at Annapolis, Md., will be the principal guest at a dinner which Mrs. Francis Berger Moran will give Saturday evening at the Wardman Park Hotel.

Mrs. Victor Kauffmann, who passed a short time in New York with her son, Mr. Kauffmann, returned to Washington Wednesday.

Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo, youngest daughter of the President, has sent her acceptance as patroness of the Dixie Club, given in the New Willard Wednesday evening, April 7. Another New York woman who shows her annual interest in the ball is Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, who is also a patroness, and who has just added their names to the list are Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, Mrs. Carl Vrooman and Mrs. E. E. Vrooman.

Captain Donatello del Castillo Jr., Cuban Army Engineer, who accompanied General E. H. Crowder to this country as aide-de-camp on the latter's return from Cuba last August, and who has since been in Washington and New York on a special mission for the Cuban government, has left Washington for New York, whence he will sail for Havana on March 26.

Mrs. Richard Townsend will be hostess at dinner this evening.

Representative and Mrs. Julius Kahn will entertain at dinner to-night, and their guests will include the Postmaster General and Mrs. Burleson.

Brigadier General and Mrs. Charles L. McCawley will entertain at dinner this evening in compliment to their guest, Mrs. Henry Clives of New York. They will be hosts at dinner again on Friday evening.

Prince Albert Radzwill, of the Polish Legation staff, and Princess Radzwill, who is here on a visit, will be at a luncheon to-day at the legation.

Senora de Sol, wife of the Minister of Salvador, entertained at luncheon to-day at the Shoreham.

Mrs. R. C. Marshall and Miss L. W. Marshall are at Atlantic City, at the Hotel Traymore.

Miss Mary Copeland and Miss Josephine Maguire have gone to Atlantic City, and will stay at the Hotel Edison.

Mme. Cremer, wife of the Minister of the Netherlands, was hostess at a luncheon to-day at the legation.

Senora de Sol, wife of the Minister of Salvador, entertained at luncheon to-day at the Shoreham.

Mrs. R. C. Marshall and Miss L. W. Marshall are at Atlantic City, at the Hotel Traymore.

Miss Mary Copeland and Miss Josephine Maguire have gone to Atlantic City, and will stay at the Hotel Edison.

Affianced Bride of Artist

Miss Mercedes H. de Acosta

Her engagement to Abram Poole, the artist, is formally announced by her mother, Mrs. Ricardo de Acosta. The wedding will take place in May.

Palm Beach Visitors Remain Late This Year

Hotels Plan to Keep Open Throughout April Next Season

Special Dispatch to The Tribune PALM BEACH, March 25.—The Breakers, on account of the demand for late accommodations, will remain open until April 7. More than 500 were registered there to-day, the house being almost filled to capacity, about three times as many as are customarily registered at this date.

Both Florida houses may adopt an April season next year. Many people have left the hotels for cottages vacated by tenants who have gone North. Arrangements have been made to keep the golf courses and the country club open.

To-day's arrivals include Mrs. L. Lee Barton, J. Clarence Davies, Miss Ann Peetles and Mr. and Mrs. Colgate Hoyt, of New York, who are accompanied by Malcolm Oakes, Mr. and Mrs. William Betts and the Misses Betts, of Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Busch, of New York, who recently sold their place in Miami, to-day purchased a villa on Sea Spray Avenue, between the country road and the ocean.

Charles H. Dillingham has returned to New York. Mr. Dillingham will remain here until April 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Geolet entertained informally at luncheon at the Breakers to-day. Others entertaining included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stearns, W. L. Wood Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Sergey Friede, Mr. and Mrs. Horace M. Work and Maxwell Norman.

Kreiser Plays at Carnegie

Violinist Heard Here With Philharmonic Society

Fritz Kreiser played Brahms's Violin Concerto in D major with the Philharmonic Society last evening at Carnegie Hall. Every seat in the house was sold, and all the standing room occupied. Mr. Kreiser still quotes the purple Symphony No. 5 in C minor, and no other violinist has quite so strong a combination of amorous, haunting tone, dazzling technique and eloquent vitality in expression. He will repeat his performance of this concerto this afternoon.

The program last evening included a Prelude, Choral and Fugue of Bach's arranged by Albert Beethoven's Symphony No. 5 in C minor, and Overture to Wagner's "Tannhäuser."

Johnny Chuck and Jimmy Skunk watched Old Man Coyote trot away across the Green Meadows and disappear among the bushes of the Old Pasture. Then Johnny Chuck gave a great sigh of relief. "Jimmy," said he, "but for you I would be on my way to the Old Pasture this very minute."

"What do you want to go up to the Old Pasture for?" demanded Jimmy Skunk rather gruffly.

"I don't want to go up there," chuckled Johnny Chuck. "No, Jimmy, I don't want to go up there. It's the last place in the world I would think of going. But I know very well that for you I would be on my way up there now with Old Man Coyote. You saved my life, Jimmy Skunk, and— I wish I could do something for you."

Johnny Skunk's eyes twinkled. "That was nothing to do for an old friend," said he. "All I had to do was to show you how quick you can change your mind. Some people can change their minds. I never have seen any one lose an appetite quicker than Old Man Coyote."

Suddenly Jimmy became very severe. "Johnny Chuck," said he, "I told you that you shouldn't have left your home in the far corner of the Old Orchard. Now you see, I was right. If it hadn't been that I was here when Old Man Coyote arrived that new home you are so anxious for would have been right inside Old Man Coyote by this time. Now take my advice and get back home as quick as you can and stay there. Why, if I had a home like that I would be perfectly happy. It's the finest home I know of anywhere."

"Do you really think so?" interrupted Johnny Chuck eagerly. "How would you like to have it for your own?"

Jimmy Skunk turned to face Johnny Chuck. "Now what idea have you in that crazy head of yours?" he demanded.

Johnny Chuck grinned. "Just this, Jimmy Skunk," said he. "I've got to have a new home. Something inside me tells me that I can never be contented until I have a new home. Polly Skunk."

Johnny Chuck grinned. "Just this, Jimmy Skunk," said he. "I've got to have a new home. Something inside me tells me that I can never be contented until I have a new home. Polly Skunk."

Johnny Chuck grinned. "Just this, Jimmy Skunk," said he. "I've got to have a new home. Something inside me tells me that I can never be contented until I have a new home. Polly Skunk."

Johnny Chuck grinned. "Just this, Jimmy Skunk," said he. "I've got to have a new home. Something inside me tells me that I can never be contented until I have a new home. Polly Skunk."

Johnny Chuck grinned. "Just this, Jimmy Skunk," said he. "I've got to have a new home. Something inside me tells me that I can never be contented until I have a new home. Polly Skunk."

Johnny Chuck grinned. "Just this, Jimmy Skunk," said he. "I've got to have a new home. Something inside me tells me that I can never be contented until I have a new home. Polly Skunk."

Johnny Chuck grinned. "Just this, Jimmy Skunk," said he. "I've got to have a new home. Something inside me tells me that I can never be contented until I have a new home. Polly Skunk."

Johnny Chuck grinned. "Just this, Jimmy Skunk," said he. "I've got to have a new home. Something inside me tells me that I can never be contented until I have a new home. Polly Skunk."

Johnny Chuck grinned. "Just this, Jimmy Skunk," said he. "I've got to have a new home. Something inside me tells me that I can never be contented until I have a new home. Polly Skunk."

Delaware May Vote To-day On Suffrage

Friends of the Amendment Plan to Call It Up in Senate and Its Enemies to Seek Test in Assembly

Pleas Make No Converts

Mrs. Catt Threatens That the Connecticut Legislature Will Convoke Itself

From a Staff Correspondent

DOVER, Del., March 25.—The fate of the suffrage amendment in the Delaware Legislature is still in doubt to-night after a day of hearings before a joint session of the two houses.

The amendment may be called up in the Senate to-morrow by its friends, and in the Assembly its enemies are watching for a chance to spring it upon that body at an inopportune moment. Minority Leader McNabb threatens to call it up for a vote to-morrow, thinking it will be defeated.

As for the hearing to-day it was an old-fashioned day of oratory, with cheers from the rival sides and women standing for hours packed in the corridors, thankful to catch a few words floating through the transom.

On the streets and in the state house perfect strangers became friends with no more introduction than a yellow jonquil or a rose, colors of the pros and antis, while in the hotel corridors the same slight provocation led to long and bitter arguments.

Mrs. Catt's Pleas

Speakers for the suffrage side in the hearing stressed the national importance of the issue. They told the men of Delaware that the eyes of the whole country were upon this little state, which was the first to ratify the Federal Constitution and was being given the "honor" of ratifying the woman suffrage amendment as the last and decisive state.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the American Woman Suffrage Association, declared the amendment would surely be ratified, no matter what action Delaware took.

"You can no more stop the passage of this amendment than you can make the sun stand still," she declared. Mrs. Catt declared: "Thirty-five states have ratified. You have the chance to be the thirty-sixth. Will you take it? If you don't, well then who's next? The Governor of Connecticut is an anti-suffragist. He refuses to call a special session. Very well. I ask you did you ever hear of a Legislature calling a special session? It has been done in the last three years. It can be done again."

Vote Nearly Precipitated

"At the very worst, the most that can happen to this amendment is that way of delay is to prevent the women from voting until January, 1921, when half a dozen states will be ready to ratify in their regular sessions."

Other speakers, however, besides the element of time may nullify the women's vote next November in certain of the states, especially in the South, unless the Legislatures are willing to make necessary changes in the laws. Payment of a poll tax is required in seven of the states; in Florida and Louisiana payment is required for the two years previous to the election. The Texas law calls for the payment of a poll tax on January 1, Alabama and Mississippi on February 1 and North Carolina and South Carolina on May 1.

Connecticut Republicans Urge Suffrage Adoption

Declare Party Will Suffer if the State Is Not the Thirty-sixth to Ratify the Amendment

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

HARTFORD, Conn., March 25.—Governor Holcomb's refusal yesterday to call a special session of the Legislature to ratify the Federal woman suffrage amendment raised protests by leading Republicans here to-day that the party would be irreparably damaged unless, in the present emergency, the state could bring about adoption of the amendment by ratifying as the thirty-sixth state.

They declared that if Delaware failed to ratify and the Governor of Vermont adhered to his decision not to call a special session, only Connecticut would be left to assure ratification in time to permit the women of the Union to vote in the coming Presidential elections.

The leaders of the Republican state convention, which yesterday called upon the Governor to call a special session have not given up hope that he will yield. There was no tendency among them to assume an official and legal authorities, however, to credit the statement made by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt that the Connecticut Legislature could meet without a special call from the Governor.

Eastern Art Objects Sold

Miscellaneous art objects from Persia, China and Japan, from the collection of E. Collona and other private owners and estates, were sold at auction yesterday afternoon at the Anderson Galleries, Park Avenue and Fifty-ninth Street.

Two large sixteenth century paintings from the collection of the Park Avenue Antique Studio for $275 each; a porcelain jar from China went to K. Oshima, for $200; a Chinese carved glass jar was sold to Miss H. Counihan, an expert, for $150, and Kouchakji Freres bought a Persian manuscript of 1550 for $105. The total for yesterday's sale was $1,233. The sale will be concluded this afternoon.

Mrs. Trowbridge Not Named To Direct Memorial Campaign

From The Tribune's Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The George Washington Memorial Association expressed regret to-day that through an error Mrs. Alexander Trowbridge, of New York, was named in an announcement published last Monday, as director of the National Victory Memorial Building campaign in New York. The association expects to appoint the New York chairman within a few days.

In general, the women who were chairman of the state committees of the National Council of Defense are representing the Victory Memorial Building project in their respective states. In some cases the directors are selected through the National Council of Women, which is co-operating with the personnel of what formerly was the Women's Division of the National Council of Defense.

Mrs. Ridgely also quoted Delaware's favorite statesman. On the question of a Legislature's obedience to his constituents, which has worried some members who believe their districts are opposed to suffrage.

"A Legislature's obedience to its constituents has worried some members who believe their districts are opposed to suffrage."

"A Legislature's obedience to its constituents has worried some members who believe their districts are opposed to suffrage."

"A Legislature's obedience to its constituents has worried some members who believe their districts are opposed to suffrage."

"A Legislature's obedience to its constituents has worried some members who believe their districts are opposed to suffrage."

"A Legislature's obedience to its constituents has worried some members who believe their districts are opposed to suffrage."

"A Legislature's obedience to its constituents has worried some members who believe their districts are opposed to suffrage."

"A Legislature's obedience to its constituents has worried some members who believe their districts are opposed to suffrage."

"A Legislature's obedience to its constituents has worried some members who believe their districts are opposed to suffrage."

First Woman Civil Service Commissioner

Ethel Barrymore resappeared last night in "Deceased" at the Empire Theatre completely recovered from the attack of laryngitis, which prevented her from playing since last Saturday night.

F. Ziegfeld Jr. yesterday arranged for Edward Joyce to stage the "Ziegfeld Follies of 1920," which will open at the New Amsterdam Theatre about June 1.

On Easter Monday, April 5, the Shubert will produce three new productions. The revival of "Florodora" will occur at the Century Theatre; in Hartford the first performance of "The Man Outside" by Kilbourn Gordon and his company will take place, and in Atlantic City, at the Globe Theatre, the same evening "A Week-End Marriage," by Owen Davis, will be produced.

Glenn Anders, last seen in "Civilian Clothes," opened Monday night in Philadelphia in Victor Herbert's musical comedy "Oui, Madame," as leading man for Georgia O'Rourke.

During Holy Week there will be special performances of "The Piper" at the Fulton Theatre on Thursday afternoon and Saturday morning. No one in the performance of Joseph Preston Peabody's fantastic comedy will be given on Good Friday, but beginning Easter Week the scheduled three performances will be given each week.

Rachel Barton Butler, author of "Mamma's Affair," has selected "Alice in Wonderland" as the first play to be produced by her at her children's theater. She has made the stage adaptation herself, and the play will be produced soon after Easter.

Silvio Hein is writing the score for the musical play "My Vampire Girl," which Max Spiegel, producer of "Look Who's Here," now playing at the Forty-fourth Street Theatre, will present next fall.

A. H. Woods has closed his option on the English rights of "The Sign on the Door," and will produce the play in London under his own management early next season.

The first performance of "The Ouija Board," by Crane Wilbur, will be given at the Bijou Theatre Monday evening, March 29.

The Stuyvesant Players will repeat their program of three one-act plays at the Washington Irving Municipal Theatre, 40 Irving Place, this evening. "Dawn," by Percival Wilde; "The Sorcerer's Apprentice," by Robert Bunsen; "Hundred Plays of Yuen," and "Five Minutes Alone with a Lady," by Lester Margon, will be presented.

The Kanellos Ballet Hellenique, with Vassos Kanellos and Mlle. Thalia Zanon, will give a performance of ancient and modern Greek dances at the Greenwich Village Theatre Sunday evening.

Helen MacKellar and Edward Arnold, of the "Storm" company, are getting into trim for an eighteen-hole game of golf. The winner will meet Gene Quigg, the Chicago expert, who is the "Storm" company's business manager, in the final match. Basil Broadhurst, son of the producer of the play, has put up a silver cup to go to the winner.

As her donation to the Y. W. C. A. "For the Girl" campaign, little Lillian Roth, the eight-year-old actress in "Shavings," sent Chrystal Hertz, head of the Professional Women's Division of the collections committee, an order to collect her full salary this week. When the order reached the company manager of "Shavings" it was brought to the attention of Colonel Henry W. Savage, who made Lillian's gift his own and recommended her to the Professional Women's Division for full membership in that unit.

Loretta Sheridan, who was last seen here in "Good Morning, Judge," has been engaged by Harry Wardell for "My Golden Girl," at the Nora Baynes Theatre.

On Tuesday afternoon, April 6, Clotilde and Alexander Sakharoff will dance at the Globe Theatre, the entire proceeds of the performance to be devoted to the fund for milk for American babies.

Vernon Archibald Heard in Recital at Aeolian Hall

Vernon Archibald, a baritone with an infinitesimal volume of voice but who possesses taste and intelligence, gave a recital yesterday afternoon at Aeolian Hall.

Mr. Archibald is distinctly a parlor singer, and it would be impossible to give any just consideration of his art in an auditorium where he could scarcely be heard. It is enough to state that he sang a large variety of songs, extending from Carissimi and Handel to Massenet, Chausson, Debussy and Cyril Scott.

He was accompanied at the piano by Frank Bibb.

Easter Cards

On Display in Special CARD ROOM

DUTTON'S

681 Fifth Avenue

Opposite St. Thomas's Church

Mr. Gorham's Well Known Store

Religious Easter-Cards, Books and Publications Suitable for the Season.

Oxford Bibles and Prayer Books

11 West 45th Street

The Stage Door

Ethel Barrymore resappeared last night in "Deceased" at the Empire Theatre completely recovered from the attack of laryngitis, which prevented her from playing since last Saturday night.